Summary

Recently graduated from Camden County College in Blackwood New Jersey, I'm working towards my goal of being a great front-end developer and a developer advocate. I'm very passionate about this field and everything I do; it drives me to be inquisitive and resourceful. I learned how to code to bring my ideas to life, share my art and improve the quality of websites. I'm also always looking for more opportunities to learn and expand my knowledge in the process.
